"HOC SIGNO FORTUNA."

BALTIMORE, FRIDAY, JANUARY, 16th 1818.

Accompanying this day's Register, we send the Managers Official List of Prizes in the Surgical Institution Lottery. We intended to have issued it on an entire sheet, but on reflection changed it to the pamphlet form, for the greater convenience of examination—Those Numbers without any prizes affixed, are each entitled to Fifty Dollars.

The TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLAR PRIZE in the Surgical Institution Lottery which was sent from THIS OFFICE, to Mr. Kursheedt at Richmond, was re-sold by him to Mr. Victor Wauhop of the house of Hatcher & Wauhop, Merchants, of that City.

On our fourth page will be found a memorandum exhibiting a list of the Capital Prizes drawn in the Surgical Lottery, with their Nos. and the names of places where owned—We publish it to shew the great success attending distant adventures who invest in our Lotteries.

The Princess Charlotte of Wales, was born Jan. 7, 1796, and married May 2, 1816. Her death must be a severe disappointment to the hopes of the British nation, as it renders it extremely uncertain who will be the successor of the Prince Regent to the throne. It is remarkable that although the twelve eldest children of the present king are all living, viz. seven sons and five daughters, the youngest of whom is more than forty years old, not one of them has a legitimate child living. The succession goes, on the death of the Prince Regent, to the Duke of York, who is married to a daughter of the late king of Prussia. This Princess has never had any children, and is now fifty years old. The two next sons of the king, the Dukes of Clarence and Kent, have never been married. The Duke of Cumberland is married, but has no children. The Duke of Sussex was married in 1793, and had a son and daughter, but his marriage was not according to the forms required by law, and has been declared void, and his children are of course illegitimate. The Duke of Cambridge is not married, and, although the youngest of the king's sons, is 43 years old. The eldest of the daughters of George III. is a widow. The Dutchess of Gloucester was married in 1816, and neither have any children. The three other daughters have never been married. The king has one nephew only, who is 41 years of age, and one niece who is 44, and is unmarried.

There is one consequence of the death of the Princess Charlotte, of some political importance. The succession to the crown of the Kingdom of Hanover, which cannot go to a female, will probably remain united with that of the kingdom of Great Britain.—Boston Daily Adv.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.

By the ship Falcon, we have received London papers to the 26th, Liverpool to the 28th, Dublin to the 15th, and Lloyd's Lists to the 21st, all inclusive.

Capt. Lewis states, that the ports in England were shut against the importation of foreign flour, grain, &c.; in consequence of which, American flour had advanced to 70s.

The papers are extremely barren of any thing new or interesting this side of the Atlantic, and are filled chiefly with accounts of the funeral of the Princess Charlotte, which took place Nov. 19th.

The funeral of the Princess Charlotte of Wales took place on the evening of the 19th of November. It was attended by a long procession, and concluded with a funeral service. The body of the Princess was placed in a mahogany coffin, that inclosed in one of lead, which was put in an outer coffin of mahogany, covered with crimson velvet, and formed into pannels with white plated nails, the lining of white satin. An urn containing the heart of the Princess was placed in a mahogany case—The coffins of the infant were like those of the parent.

The principal Prelates of the Church of England have paid visits of condolence to the Prince Regent and Prince Leopold: and funeral sermons have been delivered in nearly all the places of divine worship; and the day of the funeral was marked in most of the towns with appropriate ceremonies.

Addresses of condolence are presented from many towns, &c. in England, to the Prince Regent, on account of the irreparable loss he and the nation have sustained.

A Government Messenger has been sent from England to the Princess of Wales in Italy, to inform her of the death of her daughter.

It is asserted that only one woman in 50,000 dies in child birth.

The three persons nearest the British throne, being married and having children, are the King of Wurtemberg, Prince Paul his brother, and the Princess Frederica Buonaparte, their sister, wife to Jerome Buonaparte.

In London, Nov. 20, Am. six per cent. stock was 105, dull.

Conclusion of the Drawing.
